ANCIENT ATHENS

Stroll along the most popular places in Athens where all the famous Greeks like Socrates, Plato, Aristotle and Alexander the Great used to walk

First we visit the district of Plaka where the upper class Athenians used to set memorials of their victories in the theatrical drama contests. As we walk we learn about their daily life and details regarding their habits and customs. Admire the theatre of Dionysus where the lower class Athenians used to wait in the queue in order to enter free of charge and watch tragedies/comedies of famous authors. Let the Parthenon catch your eye; the masterpiece of the Greek classical architecture and later on we climb up to Areus Pagus Hill. Then we visit Irakleidon museum where we have the chance to admire the technological achievements of the Ancient Greeks.

We combine our experience with a coffee break against the amazing view of the Acropolis. We visit also the Prison of Socrates and relive the last days and moments of the famous philosopher's life.

Finally, we have lunch at the nearby traditional district of Thissio (optional) where we have the chance to taste the "oinomelo"; a hot (or cold) combination of wine and honey that the Ancient Greeks used to drink.

DISCOVER THE EARLY MODERN PERIOD
AND THE RICH OTTOMAN HERITAGE OF THE CITY

EAST MEETS ATHENS

Walking in Athens throughout centuries

We stroll around the most popular narrow streets and explore the Ottoman influence to the city together with our friendly historian who informs us in detail about the history of all the points of interest.

Admire the evolution of the city's architecture throughout the centuries and observe hidden evidence of the reuse and the damage of the monuments. We learn about the story behind the name of Monastiraki Square and we also hear the story behind the Tzisdarakis' Mosque that led to the fall of its founder.

Our next stop is the oldest house of Athens, the Benizelos' mansion, our historian will also guide us to "Kadis House", the Muslim Judge and we will learn about the co-existence of Christians and Muslims under the Islamic law. The oldest Hammam Baths of Athens is our next visit where we know about the construction of the baths while we get prepared for our own hammam experience!

Enjoy a coffee-break at the lovely vintage café, in order to taste the debated Greek-Turkish coffee. Instead of this we can either move to the "Al Hammam Traditional Baths".

Later on, we reach the point where the most imposing Ottoman complex of buildings was located, where we can still admire most of them.

At the end, we enjoy our meal at a traditional restaurant with the special delicacies of the local cuisine of the Christian community in Turkey.
